II. PROGRAM SPECIFIC GUIDELINES

A. Overview

The Office of Citizen Exchanges, SportsUnited Division, of the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) announces an open competition for the FY 2016 International Sports Programming Initiative. Sports Diplomacy programs can be an important tool for advancing foreign policy goals and connecting with audiences with whom traditional diplomacy proves challenging, including at-risk youth, women, minorities, people with disabilities, and non-English speakers. U.S. public and private non-profit organizations meeting the provisions described in Internal Revenue Code section 26 U.S.C. 501(c)(3) may submit proposals for exchange projects designed to reach underserved youth and/or their coaches/sports administrators who manage youth sports programs. These exchanges between the United States and select countries will be reciprocal exchanges that employ sports to address a specific theme outlined below. The International Sports Programming Initiative uses sports to help underserved youth around the world develop important leadership skills, achieve academic success, promote tolerance and respect for diversity. The focus of all programs must be on both male and female youth and/or their coaches/sports administrators. The NOFO for this competition gives further direction on the substance of the program.

Applicant organizations are invited to submit one application to administer one Cooperative Agreement which consists of at least four two-way exchange programs (four groups of foreign participants traveling to the United States, and four groups of U.S. participants traveling overseas) under the Sport for Social Change theme. Each of the approximately three cooperative agreement will support approximately 150 youth, sports administrators and/or coaches from one of the three regions (EAP, NEA, and SCA) and support approximately 100 American youth, sports administrators and/or coaches. The foreign participants can come from a designated country or multiple countries from the same regional group. See C. Eligible Regions and Countries in the POGI below and C.3. Other Eligibility Requirements in the NOFO for additional information.

The award recipient organization may conduct up to two of the four two-way exchange programs themselves, but is required to oversee and monitor at least two additional subaward recipient organizations to conduct the remaining two-way exchange programs. Through the cooperative agreement, the award recipient organization will be responsible for the management and oversight of the four two-way exchange programs and for the oversight of the subaward recipient organizations that implement the programs. To ensure that applicant organizations are reaching out to a diverse set of subaward recipients, applicants must solicit proposals from other non-profit organizations and/or institutions that will be able to provide subject matter expertise related to the programs being proposed and be able to implement the two-way exchange. The proposal should include a detailed plan to solicit subaward recipients' proposals as well as the types of organizations and/or institutions the applicant intends to recruit. The applicant organization should indicate specific organizations and/or institutions that they intend to work with in their proposal; however, the selection of the subaward recipients will be determined in consultation with the ECA Program Office. The ECA Program Office retains the right to review all subaward recipients' proposals and to accept or refuse subaward recipients recommended by the award recipient.

It is essential that proposals provide a full, detailed, and comprehensive narrative describing how the award recipient and/or subaward recipients will achieve the objectives of the programs. The proposal will be reviewed on the basis of the review criteria in the NOFO.

B. Theme:

Sport for Social Change: Sports-based people-to-people exchanges are central to building and promoting values of inclusion and open opportunities for people to contribute fully to society, and create opportunities to establish the trust needed to build a more stable, secure, and prosperous world. Exchanges funded under the Sport for Social Change theme will focus on a broad range of audiences and focus on addressing critical social issues. Programs will focus on effective ways that sport can play a role in promoting more stable and inclusive communities, and as an alternative to anti-social behavior. Project goals should include the importance of leadership, responsibility, teamwork, healthy living, and self-discipline to demonstrate how organized sports can encourage youth to stay in school, prevent substance abuse and violence, and mitigate extremist voices. In addition, projects should aim to include the use of sport as a tool to promote tolerance and understanding through organized activities that appeal to youth and youth influencers, and that focus on conflict prevention/resolution. Project goals should include improving the quality of life for persons with disabilities by providing affordable, inclusive sports experiences that build self-esteem and confidence, enhancing active participation in community life, and making a significant contribution to the physical and psychological health of people with disabilities. Programs should emphasize the responsibility of the broader community to support healthy behaviors, and educate young people how to prevent and manage non-communicable diseases, as well as the importance of environmental sustainability, through sports programs.

The pursuit of academic degrees from U.S. institutions is not an acceptable focus of the International Sports Programming Initiative. Proposals that have only an academic focus will be deemed technically ineligible under C.3. Other Eligibility Requirements and will receive no further consideration in the review process.

Proposals that address themes outside of the Sport for Social Change theme listed in the NOFO, will be deemed technically ineligible.

C. Eligible Regions/Countries:

ECA anticipates that participants will be drawn from the following regions and countries:

- East Asia and the Pacific: (possible countries include: Australia, Brunei, Burma, Cambodia, Fiji, Indonesia, Japan, Laos, Malaysia, Mongolia, New Zealand, People's Republic of China, Philippines, Singapore, South Korea, Thailand, Timor-Leste, and Vietnam)
- Near East and North Africa: (possible countries include: Algeria, Bahrain, Egypt, Israel, Jordan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Morocco, Saudi Arabia, and West Bank/Gaza)
- South and Central Asia: (possible countries include: Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Maldives, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan)

ECA reserves the right to amend or modify the list of participating regions and countries should conditions change in the listed countries or if other countries are identified as U.S. foreign policy priorities. Participating countries and regions will be determined by ECA, in coordination with the Department's Regional Bureaus and Public Affairs Sections at U.S. Embassies abroad.

Proposals that include or target countries and regions that are not listed as eligible in the NOFO, or that address more than one region, will be deemed technically ineligible.

D. Program Administration

Applicants should discuss the award recipient's capacity to successfully manage international exchange programs, including institutional capacity. Proposals should include a staffing pattern that details how staff will share responsibilities. Applicants should designate a project director to oversee all of the programs, coordinate logistical and administrative arrangements, ensure an appropriate level of continuity between the cooperative partner and the sub-award organizations and serve as ECA's primary point of contact. In addition, project directors or coordinators should be designated at each subaward recipient organization to help facilitate the supervision of the program participants, budgetary, logistical, reporting, and other administrative arrangements. CV's for key personnel should be included in the appendix.

E. Participants

Proposals must clearly describe the types of persons that will participate in the program, as well as the participant recruitment and selection processes. It is a priority of the Bureau to include female participants in all of its programs. In the selection of foreign participants, the Bureau would like the U.S. Embassies and/or U.S. Consulates (when possible) to be involved in the recruitment and selection processes and the proposal should state how the applicant organization intends to accomplish this. The Bureau and U.S. Embassies retain the right to review all participant nominations and to accept or refuse participants recommended by the award recipient. Priority for foreign participants will be given to those who have not previously traveled to the United States. In the selection of American participants, the ECA Program Office should be involved in the final selection process and the proposal should state how the applicant organization intends to accomplish this. When participants are selected the award recipient must provide their names and biographical data, including a brief biography of the participant, to the ECA Program Office.

The intended audiences are at-risk youth, women, minorities, people with disabilities, and non-English speakers. The program will work with coaches/sports administrators, and non-governmental organizations in communities in the countries/regions specified to reach these intended audiences

F. Alumni Outreach/Follow-on Activities

Proposals should provide plans for continued follow-on activity (with minimal ECA support) that ensures that ECA-supported programs are not isolated events. Proposed follow-on activities for alumni must reflect the goals and objectives of the program and must contribute to ECA's mission to foster mutual understanding among the people of other countries and the people of the United States. The proposal should include an outline of follow-on alumni programming (including a timeline), information on how it will be coordinated with existing alumni efforts, and a description of how long-term linkages with alumni will be fostered and maintained. Examples of successful past follow on activities include, but are not limited to, structured mentoring programs, small grant competitions, alumni reunions or workshops, monthly web discussions, reverse exchanges, cooperative publications by participants and their American peers, and distance learning opportunities for alumni. Applicants should incorporate the online community on the International Exchange Alumni website (Alumni.State.Gov) into their alumni outreach plans.

Follow-on activities should be well developed, but also remain flexible enough to allow for changes based on the needs of the participants. Alumni activities should be financed using the line item budgeted for follow-on activities as well as significant cost-sharing by the applicant organization.

Please refer to the Proposal Submission Instructions (PSI) for additional information.

- j. Other justifiable expenses directly related to supporting program activities

While there is no rigid ratio of administrative to program costs, proposals in which the administrative costs do not exceed 25% of the total requested ECA grant funds will be more competitive under the cost effectiveness review criterion, per item E.1 Review Process below.

- 4. Budget Narrative: A budget narrative must be included and provide detailed explanation for each budget line item where the activity purpose or means of calculation may not be clear or require further justification. It should include at minimum: (1) Formulae used to calculate right column totals for multiple or replicated costs, unless clearly noted in the columned budget (e.g., travel and per diem costs for multiple people; training materials and expenses based on participant number, etc.); (2) Supportive explanation and justification for activities and expenses determined essential, but that may not be understood from the narrative or may otherwise be unclear to reviewers (e.g. security expenses, unique training or support needs due to country conditions, etc.); (3) Breakdown of costs associated with relatively high amount line item requests that would reasonably be questionable by reviewers. (e.g., if requesting $50K for “training materials,” or $100K for “public relations,” you must provide justification as well as an itemized breakdown for the totals to both explain the needs as well as potentially allow for a reduced negotiation if it is deemed that only partial funding is available).
- 5. Calendar of Activities: The anticipated duration of the cooperative agreement will be up to three years. Provide a monthly plan of action or timetable that demonstrates the timing and organization of your responsibilities as the recipient. These should include, but not be limited to, monitoring subaward recipients, program exchange timeframe; training events; reporting requirements; and dispersal of funds and information).
- 6. Letters of Support/Endorsement
- 7. Resumes and CVs (resumes of all staff working directly with the program should be included in the submission; no resume should exceed two pages.)

- 9. First Time Applicant Materials, if applicable

Please note: Effective January 7, 2009, all applicants for ECA federal assistance awards must include in their application the names of directors and/or senior executives (current officers, trustees, and key employees, regardless of amount of compensation). In fulfilling this requirement, applicants must submit information in one of the following ways:

- Those who do not file IRS Form 990 must submit information above in the format of their choice.

As part of final program reporting requirements, award recipients will also be required to submit a one-page document, derived from their program reports, listing and describing their grant activities. For award recipients, the names of directors and/or senior executives (current officers, trustees, and key employees), as well as the one-page description of grant activities, will be transmitted by the State Department to OMB, along with other information required by the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act (FFATA), and will be made available to the public by the Office of Management and Budget on its USASpending.gov website as part of ECA's FFATA reporting requirements.
